Hello [REDACTED],

I never had to submit my comments in advance before. Here is a summary.

1. My accuser had mental health issues and I was not allowed to present that at trial. I became aware of them via a private investigator. Yet, the military violated my HIPAA rights were violated and no evidence was obtained.

2. The military titled me via the NCIC (National Crime Information Center) before my conviction. They title you when they open an investigation and there is no process to remove a person even if their case is overturned. You are titled even if you are administratively (Not court martialled) and kept in the database for 40 years. Even when your conviction is overturned, the system lists your charges and puts a dot, dot, dot, "not guilty" after it.

3. Even though the state of Virginia removed me from the registry after 8 years (it has been 10 years since my conviction), employers still have access to the titling information and white collar employers will not hire me because of liability issues.

I have other things to say and again, in the past, I didn't have to submit my comments in advance. I submitted the affidavit from [REDACTED] case that implicated the convening authority, head of the JAG Corps, and deputy head of the JAG Corps because we had the same convening authority.

So much I could add about my case, but I only have 5 minutes.

Arvis

Dear Mr. Owens,

This email is a reminder for you to submit your written summary of comments. They should be provided at least five (5) business days prior to December 5th. Because the DAC-IPAD is a FACA, all written comments will be treated as public documents and made available for public inspection. For this reason, do not include any personal identifying information in your comments.

The finalized agenda and meeting materials will be posted at the DAC-IPAD website located here: <https://dacipad.whs.mil/>

Thank you,
